College President Says . . .

Peru 'Haunted' By Uncertainty

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Acting Peru State College President Max Smith Thursday told the Legislature's Appropriations Committee that citizens in his community are "haunted" by the possibility that the state may close the college.

"That is the question that haunts us," Smith told Sen. Herb Nore of Genoa when he raised it at hearings on state college capital construction budget requests.

People in Peru wish the Legislature "would go on record as being behind us," Smith said.

Should Know

"If you're not going to close it, we should know it."

The possibility in itself makes it difficult to recruit students, Smith said.

Peru experienced a 23% decline in enrollment over the past year.

And Gov. J. James Exon has recommended only $25,000 for miscellaneous repairs and renovation at the institution in fiscal 1973-74.

Decision Made

It looks in the budget like the governor has already made a decision. Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney said.

"I'm not sure he's allowed even enough money to maintain the plant."

Peru may be close to "reaching the point of no return," Clark said. "No one is going to want to go there after awhile."

Robert Walker of Kearney, president of the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges, agreed that the state will "have to respond with more dollars if we are going to do the job" at Peru.

Enrollment Down

On-campus enrollment has slipped to 739 (total enrollment is 975, including about 175 in adult extension courses) and only about 300 students occupy the 789 spaces in Peru dormitories.

The school has not received approval for any major new construction since 1965, Smith noted.

Peru's 1973-74 request totaled $235,000, including $60,000 in planning funds for a proposed $1,443,700 health and physical education building.

The school's basketball court is not even regulation size, Smith said.

To Task Force

Walker said the board is submitting the question of Peru's future to a task force study which will also consider possible future use of the defunct Pershing College facilities at Beatrice.

The Appropriations Committee Thursday completed its budget hearings for the 1973 session and will begin to make decisions on agency requests next week.

Sent to the floor for debate was a revised version of LB452, which would replace the present Department of Administrative Services with a new administrative agency under the direction of five constitutional officers.

Decision Shared

Those five — the governor, the attorney general, the secretary of state, the auditor and the treasurer — would appoint the director. DAS is now an administrative unit under control of the governor.

Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell said he will ask the committee to sponsor a new bill providing 75% state financial support for educational service units. Local taxes would provide the other 25%.

The proposal would also reduce from one mill to one-fourth mill the local property taxing authority of ESUs.

Heard and held for later action was LB156, Sen. Roland Luedtke's bill to provide $24 million in annual funding over a five-year period to construct the University of Nebraska fieldhouse.

Site work is completed and the contract for steel has been awarded, Luedtke said. Foundation contracts will be let next month and other contracts are due for letting in May, he said.

Cease-Fire Is Declared

Government, Indians Resume Negotiations

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — Negotiations between militant Indians and government officials resumed Thursday night and a cease-fire has been declared, the Justice Department announced.

Methodist Bishop James A. Armstrong of Aberdeen, S.D., one of the mediators, said, however, that gunfire had occurred in the Wounded Knee area after the cease-fire took effect at 7 p.m. EST. He gave no further details.

Government officials would not comment on the reported gunshots, although about a dozen FBI agents wearing flak jackets and carrying automatic weapons were seen rushing from a command post at nearby Pine Ridge soon after the cease-fire began.

Federal spokesmen here and in Washington declined further comment on the talks, which were being held after passage of a deadline for the Indians to abandon their 10-day siege of this historic hamlet without facing arrest.

The resumption of negotiations came as the Justice Department pledged to seek an end to the confrontation without violence and as lawyers representing the protesters expressed optimism that progress was being made.

In a statement earlier in the evening a Justice Department official said the demonstrators would be prosecuted but indicated the government would not try to retake the hamlet by force.

Ralph E. Erickson, special assistant to the attorney general who represented the Justice Department at Wounded Knee, said in Washington that with the passage of the 8 p.m. EST deadline, nonresidents of the village became subject to arrest should they attempt to leave.

The protesters, led by the American Indian Movement, had charged that imposition of the Thursday night deadline amounted to a threat that the village would be attacked.

The government had said that anyone who chose to leave the village before 8 p.m. would be required only to surrender weapons and to identify himself. It emphasized, however, that criminal charges stemming from the protest might be filed by a special grand jury called to consider the case.

In his statement, Erickson said evidence "concerning violations of law" would be presented to the grand jury to be empaneled Monday.

Erickson's comments came after clergymen and lawyers mediating the confrontation offered new peace proposals to both sides, and there were indications that progress was being made.

Just before the deadline passed, one of the lawyers meeting with government officials on the proposals said, "It looks real good."

Another lawyer said the discussions had gone to "the very top."

One 15-point peace plan was offered by clergymen from the National Council of Churches and was favored by the Indians.

The proposal included a cease-fire at 7 p.m. EST, one hour before the time set by the Justice Department for the Indians to leave the village unarmed or face mass arrests.

The spokesman for the clergymen, Bishop James Armstrong of the Dakotas United Methodist church, said AIM leaders were willing to accept the proposal and government officials had reacted positively.

Russell Means, an AIM leader, said the Indians are in favor of the proposal from the clergymen. "This puts the burden of renewing the negotiations back where it belongs, on the government," he said.

Bishop Armstrong said the plan included supervision by the clergymen of the cease-fire and provision of food and supplies for the Indians who remain in the village, plus food and housing for those who leave.

On another front, Ramon Roubideaux, a chief negotiator for the Indians, said he and other lawyers met with Interior Department officials and "made some suggestions which we hope both sides will accept."

The Indian demands that resulted in the breakdown of talks Wednesday included a demand that the highest ranking Interior Department official responsible for Indian affairs meet with them immediately. They also wanted the government to suspend the tribal constitution of the Oglala Sioux, thereby suspending tribal President Richard Wilson.

Both South Dakota senators, George McGovern and James Abourezk, urged the Indians to accept the government offer. The two Democrats were in Wounded Knee a week ago and assured the Indians they would seek Senate action on their demands.

Pius Cagers, Fans Alike Silence Gretna With Zeal

By DICK HOLMAN
Star Staff Writer

If the Lincoln Pius X Thunderbolts were on "Cloud Nine" after making it into the state high school basketball tournament, they vaulted into Seventh Heaven Thursday afternoon.

The 'Bolts, only team in the 63rd annual playoffs with a losing record (10-12), upset the Gretna Dragons 70-42 in the opening round at Pershing Auditorium.

Not even Gretna senior Linda Kilhons' lucky garter with a dangling rabbit's foot seemed to help. The green band adorning the 17-year-old cheerleader's thigh ("Just a spirit thing," she said) afforded no aid for the tumbling top-seeded Dragons.

God Helping

Asked if God were on the side of the Pius X cagers' school superintendent Rev. Ivan F. Vap wouldn't admit it.

But in between sideline coaching ("Go under!" Look at that!) he did say that in view of the team's record going into the district tourney, the team and school are enthused.

That might have been an understatement: Part of the enthusiasm, he suggested, possibly owed to no school on Friday if the Thunderbolts won.

Regardless of the motives, the zeal was infectious.

Pius senior Vicki Gaston came down from her seat late in the game, her face flushed, tongue out and wagging her hands.

That said it too for the Bolts fans and faculty alike, who were on their feet more than in their seats as Class B Pius led all the way.

Sign Feil

And although Pius mammoth sign threatening to defire the Dragons fell from the wall even before the game began, the fans never flagged.

Look at ARTIE!" one built up in a bellow again and again, as junior Artie Aksamit capitalized repeatedly on Gretna's mistakes and dizzied the Dragons with his rebounding.

"PUNISH!" the pep club spelled out on giant cards, and punish Pius did.

Bolt senior Jim Rust led the way the steady force keeping the team moving and fans fists up. Boy, when he's on, he's devastating!" the Rev. Vap said. Rust's effect was devastating. Theresa Youtz's impact on opposing Gretna couldn't be measured accurately.

Dramatic Splits

The 17-year-old senior trotted regularly during free throws to the game floor and bounced into the splits.

Pius Coach Don Kelly was stern but obviously delighted after the game.

Amid a rousing send-off of Pius players by cheering students, Kelly declared with brevity: "They played together."

Private College Aid Law Unconstitutional

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster District Judge Samuel Van Pelt Thursday declared unconstitutional a bill passed by the 1972 Legislature which provided financial aid to private colleges and schools through tuition grants to students attending those schools.

In his order, Judge Van Pelt dismissed the action brought by the State of Nebraska and Vance D. Rogers, member of the State Commission for Higher Education, against State Treasurer Wayne R. Swanson.

The petitioner in the action had sought a mandamus compelling Swanson to sign a warrant to reimburse Rogers for certain expenses incurred in connection with his attendance at a meeting of the Commission.

Swanson had allegedly refused to sign the warrant on grounds that the bill, LB1171, was unconstitutional.

Judge Van Pelt held that the primary intent of the Legislature in enacting the bill was to provide financial aid to private colleges and schools through tuition grants to students "rather than to give financial assistance to residence students enabling them to attend an institution of their choice."

The court noted in the ruling that although the intent to give them assistance enabling them to attend an institution of their choice was expressed in one section of the bill, "an examination of the legislative history, and particularly the floor debate, as well as the practical operation of the legislation, indicates a primary concern for the continued solvency and operation of the institutions involved."

For this reason, according to Judge Van Pelt the law is unconstitutional in that it violates the section of the Nebraska Constitution which states:

"Neither the State Legislature nor any county, city or other public corporation, shall ever make any appropriation from any public fund, or grant any public land in aid of any sectarian or denominational school or college, or any educational institution which is not exclusively owned and controlled by the state or a governmental subdivision thereof . . ."

The court stated that the law, both in intent and practical effect, constitutes an appropriation from a public fund in aid of an educational institution which is not exclusively owned or controlled by the state or a governmental subdivision of the state.

Judge Van Pelt notes that the section of the constitution cited in his ruling was amended by the voters subsequent to the effective date of the law but held that the law would be unconstitutional even with the change in the language from the word "to" to the words "in aid of."

"Although the tuition grants do not go 'to' the school in the initial instance, they ultimately go to the school, in the exact amount given to the student, with the student being a mere conduit," Judge Van Pelt stated.

He further stated that under terms of LB1171 the student is not the true beneficiary since he receives no financial gain by the enactment of the statute.

"His only benefit, it can be called that is being able to attend a private school of his choice rather than a public school. Judge Van Pelt said adding that the "true" and only financial beneficiaries of LB1171 are the private institutions who are enriched by the tuition payments.

The court further stated that if the student were the true beneficiary as argued by the petitioner, "it would seem" that the law would be unconstitutional under another provision which prohibits the Legislature from granting to any individual any "special or exclusive privileges, immunity or franchise whatever."

Bombs Wound 150 In London

LONDON (AP) — The car bomb terror of Northern Ireland struck the heart of London on Thursday with shattering explosions outside Old Bailey court and in the area of Whitehall. More than 100 persons were wounded in blasts that left the worst scenes of destruction since the blitz of World War II.

One man in his 60s died of wounds in a hospital.

In addition to the scores brought into hospitals many others were treated at the scenes or elsewhere for shock, cuts and bruises. Estimates of the total number of casualties varied up to 200.

Scotland Yard itself and the Westminster area near the headquarters of the Conservative and Labor parties also were targets, but security men found the bombs before they could go off.

Police expressed belief the bombs were planted by the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army to coincide with a referendum in Northern Ireland on whether that British province should remain in the United Kingdom or unite with the Irish republic in the south. Eight men and two women were picked up for questioning at Heathrow Airport, Scotland Yard reported. Informants said they were about to board planes for Ireland.

The worst explosion, which took the most casualties, hit the Old Bailey criminal court, sending a pillar of smoke up to its dome and blacking out the world famous statues of the golden lady carrying the scales of justice. Every window of a 20-story office block nearby splintered and crashed down. Other windows were broken two blocks away.

A separate blast at the same time was aimed at the central army recruiting office in the Whitehall area, adjoining government offices. It damaged a pub.

Scotland Yard had been tipped in advance to expect IRA car bomb attacks against government buildings here Thursday.

Major Community Aid Realignment Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon Thursday proposed a major realignment of aid programs for community development and the use of highway funds for mass transit in the cities.

In a special message on community development, Nixon recommended that state and local governments be allowed over the next three years to use $3.65 billion of federal highway funds "for urban transportation needs, including capital improvements for bus and rapid rail systems."

Nixon also proposed that federal funding for mass transit be increased by $3 billion to bring total spending authority to $6.1 billion.

To replace seven community development programs, such as urban renewal and model cities, that are being scrapped, Nixon called for passage of a Better Communities Act Starting July 1, 1974, it would provide state and local governments with $2.3 billion a year "to be spent as they desire to meet their community development needs."

In his message, Nixon said $7.4 billion already is available and will be used "to maintain and support community development" between now and mid-1974.

Nixon said that under special revenue sharing, "funds would be used to assure that no city receives less money for community development than it has received" under the programs being discarded.

Europe Proposes U.S. Act

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — West European governments drew up a list Thursday of the things they want the United States to do to help bring an end to the international monetary crisis caused by a massive sell off of dollars held in Europe.

The proposals will be presented to Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz and Chairman Arthur F. Burns of the Federal Reserve Board at a major monetary meeting Friday in Paris.

Finance Minister Willy de Clercq of Belgium said the agreement in a meeting here of the nine nations of the European Common Market on the proposals to the United States means that they will "speak with one voice" in Paris. He was the chairman for Thursday's session here and said he would be the European spokesman in Paris.

De Clercq had a three-page list of suggestions to read to the Americans.

Officials said it covered requests that the United States: —Go into the market with its foreign currency holdings to support the dollar.

—Tighten controls on dollars flowing out of the country —Borrow abroad to soak up some of the $90 billion deposited outside the country. These Eurodollars, as they are called, had a major role in starting the monetary crisis.

There was no indication to what extent the United States will be willing to do any of these things

Makarios Scoffs At Defrocking

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus for 13 years, was ordered defrocked Thursday by three bishops who claimed he violates church law by holding public office. He scoffed at the decision as "of no value whatsoever."

The bishops took the action in a meeting at the Holy Synod of the Greek Orthodox Church of Cyprus.

Makarios, proclaimed president last month for a third five-year term after no opponent was put up to test his popularity, said the bishops' action "displayed a dark medieval mentality amounting to utter contempt for the people."

Makarios and the bishops openly differ politically. The bishops support union with Greece, while Makarios sees independence as the only feasible role for Cyprus in view of bitter Turkish opposition to any association with Greece.

Wholesale Prices Jump 1.9%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices of farm products, foods and industrial goods posted the sharpest rise in 22 years last month, and President Nixon's chief economic adviser warned Thursday against "an inflationary boom."

The rise of 1.9 per cent in the Wholesale Price Index, steepest monthly hike since the early Korean War year of 1951, indicated continued trouble for Nixon's Phase 3 wage-price controls.

Standby Draft Lottery Is Held

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service held a standby draft lottery Thursday to assign call numbers to the two million born in 1954, but they won't be drafted short of a national emergency.

However, Byron V. Pepitone, nominated by Nixon as draft director, said men with numbers 95 and lower will be given classifications to provide a ready pool that can be processed quickly if necessary.

He said these men will be able to receive full consideration for deferments and exemption requests. Those with numbers above 95 will be kept in the same holding classification in which they were placed when they registered for the draft last year.

No. 1 in the two-hour lottery was assigned to those with June 27th birthdays. It came on the 225th draw of 365 yellow capsules containing birthdates and 365 purple capsules containing numbers.

No. 2 was assigned to those born Aug. 5, no. 3 to March 29, no. 4 to Oct. 25, no. 5 to April 4, no. 6 to Nov. 11, no. 7 to Jan. 29, no. 8 to Dec. 7, no. 9 to Oct. 26 and no. 10 to March 28. The highest, no. 365, went to Oct. 19.

Those with Christmas birthdays drew 328, New Year's 198 and Independence Day 207.

Pepitone, in his speech before the drawing, said that if the batch of men drawing numbers this year are not needed next year they will drop into a lower category of vulnerability.

"And their place will be taken by men who are one year younger who also will be primarily vulnerable for the calendar year of the 20th birthday, or 1975," he said. "Although men can be inducted after the year of their 20th birthday, the possibilities of this occurring are extremely remote."

President Nixon's draft authority expires July 1 and he does not plan to seek a renewal.

Liggett Says He Hopes Draft Not Necessary

The National Draft Lottery in Washington Thursday "underscores the continuing role Selective Service is legally obliged to carry on as part of the nation's defense," according to Lee Liggett, the Nebraska director of Selective Service.

The draft law will expire in June.

"It is our hope, of course, that it will not be necessary to induct any of the young men," Liggett said.

Inevitable Split Develops In ICCS

SAIGON (AP) — The split that seemed inevitable has developed in the International Commission of Control and Supervision, a watchdog for the Vietnam cease-fire.

An informant familiar with commission procedures gave this outline Thursday.

—Polish and Hungarian delegates are operating on the theory that the Communists won the war — and the winner can claim "the fruits of victory."

—Canadians and Indonesians are operating on the theory that there were no winners or losers in the 10-year conflict — and therefore nobody has any claim to spoils.

The result has been an East-West standoff on virtually all crucial issues. The commission operates on the rule of unanimity. If there is no agreement, a delegation may submit a minority report.

By this account, the ICCS has developed "some symptoms of the same disease" that killed the effectiveness of its predecessor — the old International Control Commission which has tentatively suspended operations in Vietnam after 18 years.

But one source said it's still too early to tell whether the symptoms in the new ICCS will produce the same malady that destroyed the effectiveness of the older group, but the prognosis appears guarded.

"We have no problems when there are no issues," said an ICCS source. "Usually there are no arguments on the standard of living we should have here and the rights, immunities and privileges."

Senators Not Eager For 3-Year Term For House

By BOB GUENTHER
Star Staff Writer

Secretary of State Allen J. Beermann said Thursday an amendment to the U.S. Constitution lengthening U.S. representatives' terms would face a rough time getting past the Senate unless there is some assurance that congressmen in the middle of their term could not seek senators' seats without losing their own

"It takes both houses to ratify a U.S. constitutional amendment, and I doubt you'd get the Senate to agree to this," he said.

Beermann did tell the Legislature's Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee that he favored increasing the term of congressmen, since he said they spend too much time and money

Weights, Measures Compromise Offered

By The Associated Press

The cost of inspecting weighing and measuring devices would be shared evenly by the taxpayer and the businessman under a compromise presented to the Legislature's Agriculture and Environment Committee Thursday.

The proposal was offered by Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton as an amendment to his LB17. He said the amended version had not been prepared but would be ready for committee action by next week.

Burbach told the committee the amended version would require businessman to pay a $1 registration fee on each weighing and measuring device. The weights and measures law passed by the 1971 Legislature authorized the agriculture department to set the registration fees. The fees when announced drew a number of protests. Burbach said businessmen felt they were too high.

Burbach said that under his proposal, the costs of inspecting the weights and measures devices would be shared equally by the state and by the businessman. The $1 registration fee would be credited to the part of the inspection fee charged the device owner.

Exon Seeks Med Center Fund Hike

Gov. J. James Exon informed the Legislature Thursday he is reducing his recommended capital construction appropriations for the Norfolk Regional Center and the Kearney Youth Development Center, but increasing his recommended outlay for the University Medical Center in Omaha.

Specifically, the governor lowered his recommendation by $229,600 at Kearney, and by $66,600 at Norfolk, while increasing by $150,000 the general fund recommendation for the Children's Rehabilitation Institute at the Medical Center.

At Norfolk, Exon originally had proposed $146,200 for the demolition and removal of seven obsolete buildings, including most of the patient care facilities. However, a review by Institutions Director Jack Anderson of the previously-made plans resulted in a suggestion that only two buildings, identified as Nos. 6 and 24, be razed and that the remaining facilities be continued.

At Kearney, the cutback is based on a finding that "population (of the Youth Development Center) is substantially declining and may continue to do so," Exon said.

Senators Pass Bill Authorizing Dams Control

The Legislature passed and sent to the governor a bill to give the state water resources director more controls over dams in Nebraska.

Under the terms of Aurora Sen. Maurice Kremer's LB186, given a 46-0 final approval vote, the director would be able to control water flow.

The bill provides that any person who either stores or releases water from a dam or reservoir without the state's permission would be guilty of a misdemeanor and be subject to a fine of $100 to $1,000 or up to six months in jail.

Exon At Head Of Delegation To Washington

Gov. J. James Exon headed a delegation of 10 Nebraskans bound for Washington, D.C., Thursday to seek release of nearly $9.5 million in impounded federal funds.

Exon said he will be urging Secretary of Transportation Claude Brinegar to release $7.9 million in impounded federal highway funds.

"Release of these funds," Exon said, "can keep our program going until Congress passes a new highway act. We feel this action is uncalled for and is causing undue disruption of our highway program. As it stands, Nebraska is being penalized for its highway progress."

A number of Roads Department officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives will be travelling with Exon.

Bills Introduced

By The Associated Press
Bill introduced in the Legislature Thursday:

LB524 (Governor, via Cavanaugh) — Increased from three to five the membership on the State Board of Paroles, and provides that three members shall devote full time to the position.

Last Anderson Hearing Slated On Wednesday

The Legislature's Committee on Committees, which already has devoted three hours to a public hearing on the confirmation of Dr. Jack Anderson to be state institutions director, decided Thursday that the hearing shall end with a session scheduled next Wednesday.

The first hearing was held last week, was continued on Wednesday of this week, and again was continued for a week.

Ground rules voted by the committee Thursday allow opponents of the Anderson appointment 30 minutes at the start of next Wednesday's hearing to testify. Witnesses favoring the appointment will follow, and Dr. Anderson will be allowed up to 20 minutes for a final statement and final questioning by committee members.

In other action Thursday, the committee recommended confirmation of the appointments of John Shoemaker of Dannebrog, Claude L. Jelen of Omaha and Jack Lederman of Kearney to the Power Review Board.

Committee Advances Driver Course Bill

By The Associated Press

A bill authorizing judges to require certain drivers to attend driver training courses of a type prescribed by the National Safety Council was sent to the legislative floor Thursday on a 7-1 vote of the Legislature's Public Works Committee.

The course requirement would be an addition to — rather than substitute for — driver license suspension under the amended version of LB414, sponsored by Sen. Gerald Stromer of Kearney and given its public hearing earlier.

Such courses, already offered in a number of Nebraska cities, consist of four 2-hour sessions, costing $5. A correspondence course costing $10 is offered as an alternative.

Also reported out was a bill given hearing Wednesday, LB463, which authorizes the state engineer to increase truck weight limits on the interstate highway in Nebraska, if and when the federal government unfreezes present weight limitations.

Killed 5-3 was a Callaway Sen. J. James Waldron bill, LB438, heard earlier, which exempts vehicles used for the transportation of bank documents from regulation by the State's Public Service Commission.

Two bills were given their public hearing Thursday, including LB490, which requires annual renewal of permits for certain signs and displays along the interstate and primary highways in the state and otherwise revises sign regulations. The measure would allow the Department of Roads to set the permit fee, but several witnesses proposed that fee limitations be written into the law.

The committee held LB490 for consideration of various amendments proposed.

The other bill aired, LB346, clarifying language in the Midwest Nuclear Compact, was approved.

Douglas County Official Backs Sales Act

The Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee was told Thursday the Douglas County Attorney's Consumer Protection Division wouldn't work without additional legislation.

James M. Murphy, representing the Douglas County attorney, conceded there are a number of criminal provisions related to consumer protection in existing laws.

But he said they were inadequate and he was in support of an interim study bill, LB327, which would provide Nebraska with a consumer sales practices act.

Noting the Douglas County attorney announced recently the formation of the special division, Murphy said it "really won't mean much unless we have the laws to use."

The measure would allow the use of class action lawsuits against firms, which drew opposition from the J. C. Penney Co.

Lynn Elms of Denver, Colo., said class actions, if allowed, should be limited in some way and offered proposed amendments to the bill which would require a person to specifically be included in a particular class.

Robert Skochdopole, an Omaha attorney representing the Retail Merchants Association of Omaha, said the measure was unnecessary.

The state's uniform commercial code, he said, fills existing needs. He also said that even if the bill was passed, it would be at least three years before it would actually become effective.

No action was taken on the bill.

Why not stop CRABGRASS? now before it even gets started

If you had crabgrass last summer, you can prevent it this year by spreading Scotts HALTS PLUS For Established Lawns. Spread it on your lawn in late winter or early spring, and it sets up a barrier that will prevent crabgrass from showing its ugly head this year. Halts Plus also fertilizes your lawn at the same time. Makes your grass grow thicker, greener, sturdier. All from a single application.

Bill OKd On Title Insurance

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The legislature flip-flopped on a title insurance bill Thursday, failing first to pass the bill on final reading and reversing itself an hour later.

Finally passed 39-6 was Omaha Sen. Richard Fellman's LB234 which broadens the definition of title insurance, thereby broadening the scope of activity of title insurance companies.

On the earlier test the tally had been 20-19, with 25 approving votes needed.

Letters which legislators had received were said to have brought on the late opposition after the measure had proved noncontroversial earlier.

Fellman made the reconsideration motion. He said he had been late in reaching Lincoln Thursday morning too late to participate in the vote on the bill.

He said objections to the bill were ill founded. As he explained the measure it would permit governmental subdivisions issuing revenue bonds to have procedures checked with title insurance companies instead of having to take the business to New York bond attorneys.

LB234 had drawn no opposition at a public hearing before the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee and was sent to the floor on an 8-0 vote.

Martin Hits Resolution On REAP

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Rep. Dave Martin R-Neb. put it bluntly to the Legislature Thursday. I am in complete disagreement with this resolution.

It was a reference to a recently passed Resolution No. 11 which urges President Nixon to reinstate the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) and other farm-related programs cut back or canceled recently as part of the administration's economy efforts.

Democratic Gov. J. James Exon had encouraged the Legislature to adopt the resolution which his office had helped prepare. It was accepted 26-1.

But Rep. Martin wrote: With constant deficits facing us it is either cut the cost of federal government or increase taxes. Cuts are being made in over 100 federal grant programs and all across the board in all departments of government. I support cutbacks in federal expenditures rather than increase taxes but evident in the Nebraska Legislature by this resolution supports increased spending.

Reapportionment Proposal Draws Fire

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A controversy among lawmakers proposal that the Legislature study the feasibility of reapportioning itself touched off hot discussion Thursday.

Out of nearly an hour of discussion emerged a decision to send two senators — Fred Carstens of Beatrice and George Syas of Omaha — to the Department of Justice to consult with Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer on the legal possibility of considering reapportionment.

Carstens originally had proposed the Legislative Council executive board study the possibility of a 1974 reapportionment. The substitute motion simply calling for consultation with the attorney general came from Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and was adopted 23-5.

Carstens contended that there is no bar to another reapportionment. He noted that when the last reapportionment took effect in 1971, it was based on the concept that a variation of not more than one per cent was allowable in the one-man, one-vote rule. Now the Supreme Court has held that variations of as much as 16 per cent are allowable, Carstens said, although Syas questioned the interpretation.

Syas argued that for the Legislature to consider the issue "will open a can of worms." He also maintained that the attorney general's opinions on reapportionment have consistently been wrong.

Sen. Eugene T. Mehoney of Omaha said the issue "will open up old scars that had been healed."

Carpenter contended agricultural Nebraska had suffered by the last reapportionment.

Parole Board Expansion Urged

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Gov. J. James Exon proposed to the Legislature Thursday that it enlarge the state Parole Board from three to five members, and make the position full-time for three of the members.

The proposal was contained in a new bill, LB524, delivered for the governor by Sen. John J. Cavanaugh III of Omaha.

Under present law, only the Parole Board chairman, now John Greenholtz, devotes full time to the position.

The new bill provides that the term of no more than one member of the enlarged board would expire in any one year. Terms generally would run six years with appointments made by the governor.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

By SIDNEY OMARR

Forecast For Friday

Pisces loves a secret, and Leo loves a party. Leo and Pisces often are drawn to each other, but the relationship presents a challenge. Leo finds Pisces intriguing and somewhat of a mystery. Pisces finds Leo helpful in a practical way but continues to be wary of the association. Eventually, Leo leans and Pisces wants to get out from under — Leo and Pisces represent Fire and Water elements and one of the two eventually must take a back seat.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Question of money related to luxury item or home improvement is apt to arise. Close budget loopholes. Strive for greater harmony within family. You get what you want if selective. Means don't settle for second best — insist on quality.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Cycle is such that you can be more independent. Refined techniques. Be true to your own style. One who advocates otherwise is misinformed. Know if and act accordingly. Pisces person could play role.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You hold trump card. Investment of time, money made in past bears fruit. Don't underestimate your assets. What you possess is desirable. Older individual will end helping hand. Be receptive. Be confident.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accent is on how you relate to friends, how you deal with emotions, romantic interests. Special relationship is tested. What appeared permanent may be of less durable stuff. Don't hang on to past. Welcome future — it can be exciting and rewarding.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You will have more responsibility, greater chance to advance and to profit. Key is to take direct approach. Get to heart of matters. Deal with those in positions of authority. Accept assignment which tests your mettle.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): What was familiar may become complicated. Do some research. Prepare. Don't get into something without knowing potential. Check motives, byways. Aquarian plays prominent role. Family member could discuss travel plans.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be flexible where financial arrangements are concerned. Joint effort is most likely to succeed. You need co-operation of mate, business partner. You may receive news connected with legacy, money in escrow.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Maintain low profile. Don't push or rush. If you will, you are most likely to succeed. Let others take initiative. Your role now should be that of keen observer. Listen and learn. Check legal papers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Read and write — find ways of getting ideas across. Gemini, Virgo persons are apt to be involved. Accent is on work, health, what you can give dependents without spoiling them. Know when to draw line.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Children and family affairs tend to dominate. Obtain hint from Sagittarius message. Change of scenery could prove beneficial. Be ready for a variety of experiences. Beauty and pleasure are featured. Accept!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Avoid seeking a person in shorts. Thoroughness now pays ultimate dividends. Check values. Realize you will not receive something for nothing. Older person who seems unreasonable will improve attitude if you are patient.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Forces tend to be scattered. You may be trying too much simultaneously. Review procedures. Cut waste. Relationship will be intensified. Nothing now is apt to occur halfway. Know it and prepare.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are sensitive, capable of reaching large segments of public. You are fascinated with law, medicine and publishing. If single, marriage is upcoming. Marriage or single, significant changes are due — many areas that had been closed to you will open to your advantage. December could be one of your most significant months of 1973.

Open Trade With China Not Expected Right Away

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

A group of journalists from East Asian nations, Australia and New Zealand said here Thursday that they expect trade doors to China will open very slowly.

The journalists, all business and economic writers, were in Lincoln on a leg of a U.S. State Department tour they participated Thursday evening in an Economics and Business Roundtable on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus and visited Nebraska business and farming enterprises.

In a morning news conference several of them said that President Nixon's China visit has opened the door to renewed trading with that country.

But they said they expected it would be five to 10 years before significant trading with China is a reality.

I don't expect China will open up very soon, said Sanjoto Sastromihardjo, editor of Indonesia's Business News.

"There is very little chance (for significant trade) in the near future," said Ralph Ning Ma, chief economic reporter for the Central News Agency in the Republic of China (Taiwan). "The income of the people in China is very low."

Lam Shan-Muk, deputy editor of the Ming Pao Evening News in Hong Kong said he expected that capital goods and raw materials but not consumer goods would begin to find their way into China from other nations in the next few years.

Timber First
Timber to provide pulp for China's paper industry may be one of the raw materials sought by the country, suggested Adrian Albert Sturnam, financial editor of New Zealand's Auckland Star.

On another economic matter several of the journalists said they doubted complete confidence in the U.S. dollar can be secured again in the near future, and they said that judgment stemmed from the impact of the most recent dollar devaluation.

There can't be complete confidence in the U.S. dollar again unless there is a change in the international monetary system, suggested Brian Arthur Frith, financial editor of The Australian.

More Prestige
Turning to the impact of U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, most of the writers said the end of the war has restored much prestige to the U.S. as a world power.

It was a nice way of getting out with a little honor, said Raul L. Loesin, editor-publisher of Business Day in the Philippines.

Sturnam said until three years ago, the U.S. had lost face because of its participation in the war. But he said, "The way in which the peace was negotiated has regained the U.S. face."

Everybody was getting sick and tired of the war, he noted. Sanjoto said Indonesians were glad of the peace.

Bombing Hurt
What has stained the image of the U.S. mainly was the bombing during the negotiations, he said. That really was quite a bit of a pity.

But now he said the U.S. image is coming off more smoothly.

This is a very strange war, said Khamhong Luangprasuet, editor for the Lao Presse of local news agency in Laos.

It's very difficult to tell who lost and who won.

When the solution came, we were happy, he said. But it was a solution between the major powers.

Other journalists here included Lee Chae-yu, economic editor for Korea's Dong A Ilbo; Nordin bin Zamudin, editor for the Malaysia News Service; Kiyoshi Ota, senior economic writer for The Economist in Japan; and Tan Sai Siong, acting financial editor for the New Nation in Singapore.

Career Confab Planned

The State Department of Education and the governor's office announced Thursday that a conference will be held in Lincoln Monday to provide information on career education to lawmen who make educational policy decisions in local Nebraska communities.

The conference will open at 8:45 a.m. in the Radisson Cornhusker Hotel with an address by Kenneth Host of the University of Maryland.

Host will speak on the conference theme, "Career education: educational imperative for the 70's."

Host will speak on the nature of career education at 10:45 a.m. and Gov. J. James Exon will deliver an address at the noon luncheon.

After group discussions in the afternoon, Host will deliver a third address at an evening banquet.

Host, a professor of education in Maryland, is an Iowa native who has worked as a high school teacher and counselor and a professor at three universities.

He was presented the distinguished service award of the American Vocational Association in 1972.

State Education Commissioner Cecil Stanley said the conference is an invitational conference for law persons in hopes it will help them in career education program development and implementation in schools in their communities.

Most of those attending will probably be local school board members.

70-Year-Old Man Guilty Of Manslaughter

Omaha (AP) — One of the oldest persons to be tried at the Douglas County Courthouse in years was found guilty of manslaughter.

Joseph Johnson, 70, had pleaded self defense in the shooting death of Odell Davis, 44, of Omaha. He was killed at a bar on Dec. 2. The District Court jury took three hours to reach a verdict.

Chief Federal District Judge Warren Urbom deferred sentencing pending an investigation by the probation office.

The jury acquitted Stabler of first degree murder before deciding on second degree.

Stabler was charged with stabbing and burning Dennis Kenton Thomas Sr., 23, also of Macy, to death.

Thomas burned body was found in the back seat of a car behind a church in Macy last Sept. 19.

Viet Ag Output Increase Seen

By DOMINICK COSTELLO
Farm Editor

South Vietnam can double its agricultural production in the next 10 years if peace is maintained and assuming that a full development of its agricultural potential happens according to Dr. E. F. Frolik, dean of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Frolik has just returned from a seven-week inspection tour of South Vietnam and other Asian countries.

Southeast Asia is an exciting place for an agricultural scientist, Singapore for example is increasing its gross national product at an annual rate of 18%, he said.

Land Not Used
Frolik estimated that as much as 25% of the farmable land in South Vietnam was out of production as a result of the war.

He said some had been abandoned due to lack of security and had grown up to brush. Land in the Mekong Delta area had been damaged by salt from sea water when dikes and dams were destroyed. There were also some areas that had been defoliated and the sandy land was beginning to move due to lack of cover.

Frolik indicated that bomb damage to land was not an important land use problem but in forested areas shrapnel in trees made them worthless for use as lumber.

Rice and rubber are the top income earners in South Vietnamese agriculture, but Frolik predicted that bananas and sugar cane would become important if peace could be maintained.

Sugar Cane
The Japanese built two sugar mills as a part of their war reparations program. Some sugar cane is grown but it provides a good place for the Viet Cong to hide in so that keeps down the acreage, he said.

Frolik predicted the water buffalo would disappear as soon as the farmers could acquire tractors. "There are already some large tractors in the Delta area. The farmers have gotten together to buy a tractor and it seems to be working quite well."

Frolik credited American aid programs with introducing milo for a winter crop on land used to produce rice in the summer.

Fishing Vital
Pigs, chickens and ducks with some beef provided an adequate diet. Fishing is important both inland and along the coast.

They fish with every conceivable method. I would describe the diet as pretty good with an adequate amount of protein. They have soybeans and peanuts as sources of vegetable protein as well as meats, eggs and fish, he said.

Frolik suggested that the South Vietnamese were capable of reconstructing their country alone but it would be much better if they had some aid from the U.S. and other countries.

I hope that some of those who were so very critical of the war will do something to help the peace, he said.

Frolik listed the primary needs as better training for extension people, some basic research in better varieties and better equipment for use on farms and in experiment stations.

Frolik predicted that a number of universities from various countries would eventually be involved in training agricultural students from Vietnam and that university teams would be aiding agricultural colleges in the Asian country.

State Asks To Dissolve Firm

The State of Nebraska has filed suit in Lancaster District Court seeking an order to vacate the charter and dissolve the corporation of American Family Centers of Nebraska Inc.

The state contends that American Family Centers, doing business at 6000 Cornhusker and in Omaha, operates a chain or referral sales scheme, which is prohibited under Nebraska law.

According to the petition, which was signed by Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer, the firm since incorporating on Jan. 5, has sold various goods, such as vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, tableware, jewelry and similar items, under a pyramid sales plan.

Each purchaser is offered the opportunity to refer to the store other potential customers, the state charges, and is promised a discount or other payment for each referral who actually buys something.

Prospective purchasers are also told that a store will be built in Lincoln and that each of the participants in the program will be permitted to refer retail customers to the store and in return therefor the participant will receive a rebate commission or discount for each purchase by such referred customer, the petition states.

Meyer contends that the alleged acts constitute a lottery prohibited by law, that the sales scheme is a substantial portion of the firm's business and that the practice is beyond its corporate authority.

Med Center Doctor Given 5-Year Grant

Omaha (UPI) — Dr. Gerald I. Wolf, assistant professor of pharmacology and radiology at the University of Nebraska Medical Center, will receive a coveted career development award from the National Institutes of Health.

The five-year grant totaling $125,000 was awarded to further Dr. Wolf's studies on radiologic diagnosis of circulatory diseases, especially hypertension. Wolf's award is only the second such in the field of radiology. He said in the past radiologists have been so busy taking care of patients that they had little time left for research.

Minorities Group Sets Capitol March

Members of the newly founded United Minorities and Concerned Peoples Organization (UMCPO) Thursday announced plans to march on the State Capitol Friday and leave from there on a caravan to Wounded Knee, S.D.

About 60 persons, most of them wearing red armbands or headbands met with reporters Thursday night at the University of Nebraska Special Services Division office.

Agio Sheridan, a leader of the American Indian Movement (AIM) in Nebraska, said four chapters from Lincoln, Omaha, Winnebago and Macy will march at 11 a.m. from the State Historical Society building to the Capitol.

Sheridan refused to disclose detailed plans of the caravan trip to Wounded Knee, the tiny South Dakota hamlet occupied nine days ago by Indian protesters.

He said he first told of plans for the trip during an interview Thursday afternoon at a local radio station. Afterwards, he said he was "visited" by two officers from the FBI and three police detectives.

However, he said the caravan will leave Lincoln immediately after the demonstration and will probably arrive at Wounded Knee late Friday night.

There are ways of getting in and out of there, Sheridan said. He said he left there Monday after spending about five days.

"I think it's good," he said of the takeover. "Things are starting to turn in our favor. I don't think the government has guts enough to rip them off."

Spokesmen for the UMCPO said its purpose is to support the Ogalala Sioux peoples at Wounded Knee for the right of self-determination of all oppressed people.

Guild Plans "Symphony Of Movement"

"Symphony of Movement" is the name of the show. The title could bring numerous imaginative pictures to mind — music, ballet, and many other things unless, of course you are familiar with the always up-and-coming activities of the Lincoln Symphony Guild.

The Symphony Guild is a harbinger of spring, and this year is no exception to the rule. So by now you may have guessed that "Symphony of Movement" means "Fashion Show" — the one that is planned for Monday, March 19, in the ballroom of the Radisson Cornhusker Hotel.

Spring and summer fashions, furnished by Miller and Paine, will be on parade while the show watchers are lunching in luxurious fashion.

This great pre-Spring event begins at 12:30 o'clock and it has been planned by a committee composed of Mrs. Robert Smith and co-chairmen Mrs. Rodger Anderson, Mrs. Cornell Arendt and Mrs. William Kinsey.

Adding their own touch of spring will be those honest-to-goodness spring flowers which have been forced into blooming especially for the luncheon tables at the fashion show. The table decor, by the way, is in charge of Mrs. Fred Gottschalk.

Just in case one has the idea that only feminine fashions and models will be seen we hasten to add that some husbands of the Guild members have been pressed into service, and will be showing an enthusiastic audience what's what in men's fashions for spring and summer.

On a tour of the shops

Last week "on a tour of the shops" we discussed the latest spring fashions for the ladies. Well, this week the men in our lives will have their turn, as we will be talking about spring styles in men's apparel.

AT JON FEISTNER LTD.

At Jon Feistner Ltd. they tell us that the spring and summer fashions for men is returning to the traditional, understated look in clothing style; but a boisterous flair is added by the bright madras fabrics which will be readily seen throughout the seasons.

SPORT COATS A fine example of the leanings toward the traditional styles are the sport coats and blazer jackets, which are constructed of worsted linen or dacron and wool blends rather than double knits.

The jackets are not styled with belts, pleats or pockets; but rather they feature a "clean look" with a mere two buttons near the waist and a moderate lapel.

As we mentioned before, although the styles follow the traditional lines, a colorful contrast is displayed by the vivid plaids.

One that we particularly liked is a 100% wool summer coat of a very soft texture, which features a plaid in off white, beige and light blue. The jacket, which displays three buttons near the end of the sleeves, two buttons near the waist and a moderate lapel, can be easily coordinated with slacks in a solid shade.

SLACK INNOVATIONS: The most startling change in dress slacks at Jon Feistner Ltd. is the return of the straight pant leg. Nearly all of the pants display the straight leg and waistbands that are one and three-fourths or two inches wide.

Several of the dress slacks that we saw are fashioned of textured polyester in solid shades, but the most flamboyant are those of madras.

But there is more to be told about slacks — seersucker slacks, for instance. One pair in the new style features a large seersucker plaid in red, white and blue, which is very attractive.

SPORT AND DRESS SHIRTS. In dress shirts at Jon Feistner Ltd. most are of a pure finish 100% cotton, and they are styled in pastel colors with the once popular button-down collars.

We also discovered the return of the banlon or orlon knit sport shirts at the shop. Of course, for summer they are fashioned with short sleeves, and we also found that they followed a very simple design — some with pockets, but many without.

Most have collars above the front opening which fastens with four small buttons. Generally, the shirts are of a solid shade and many that we saw displayed are in off-white, with a narrow, contrasting trim in such colors as navy, red or brown around the collar and sleeve endings.

AT THE HITCHIN' POST

The return to the classical look of years past also will be evident in ensembles chosen by the big men on campus. However, the Hitchin' Post offers men's fashion styles which indicate a liberal interpretation of the way things used to be — but in the shapes of today, with brighter and more intricate patterns.

THE BAGGIES, with their stylish cuffs and waistline pleats, are shown in all fabrics for all occasions. Of course, the denims will head the popularity charts for the classroom, but there are other baggies which are particularly great for less casual happenings. And those baggies which are particularly great for less casual happenings. And those baggies are shown in many fabrics, and in solids, plaids, and patterns.

One of our favorite baggies was bright, and right in tune with the times — a red, white, and blue plaid on a seersucker fabric. The knits seem to be here to stay, and we found attractive pants fashioned in a blue and white check pattern.

PATTERNS AND PASTELS seem to be the biggest news items regarding spring and summer shirts. But then the open collar look is perhaps the newest style — and that look is present in most of the fashion shirts found at the Hitchin' Post.

One of our favorite open collar shirts was fashioned of a matte jersey and sported the nostalgic chintz patterns of yesteryear. The chintz motif was accomplished through the use of attractive combinations of muted and pastel shades. Of course, there also is a wide selection of checked and plaid patterns at the Hitchin' Post in luxurious fabrics, but we particularly liked the long sleeved knit shirt which was found in the light beige shade. It reminded us of the extensive use of detail in the garments for spring and summer — the shirt had a woven look to it, and complimenting the understated feeling of the shirt was a row of buttons which were adorned with hand-painted flowers.

THE LAYERED LOOK seems to be here to stay — and we learned at the Hitchin' Post that the baggy trousers and pastel shirts are further enhanced when worn with the sleeveless pastel print sweaters. One of the newest vest styles features an over-the-shoulder capped sleeve, and thus vest is found in a light blue shade with a diamond design.

SKINNY BELTS reflect the classical look, as the pendulum has moved away from the heavy belts. The Hitchin' Post has a great variety of the narrow belts which also reflect the extensive use of detail this season. For example, some are top-stitched, others have printed patterns, others give a woven effect, and still others have the patchwork look.

NECKTIES ARE CLASSICAL. The butterflies are back — and they are found with attractive prints, including a gray and gold houndstooth and other small patterns which also are shown on the wide ties which are similar to those worn by our forefathers.

Bridge: quiz day

Your right-hand opponent bids One Diamond, both sides vulnerable. What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠AQJ85 ♥AK92 ♦74 ♣K3
2. ♠AJ9 ♥QJ7 ♦KJ6 ♣KQ85
3. ♠AQJ883 ♥A10 ♦K6 ♣K92
4. ♠AK ♥A6 ♦8752 ♣Q9632
5. ♠KJ96 ♥AQ87 ♦10 ♣J984

1. Double. The fact that an opponent opens the bidding does not foreclose the possibility that your side may have a game or a part score. There are various ways of competing against an opening bid, and one of the most effective is a double.

The double announces the values for an opening bid. This hand is too good for a mere overcall of one spade, which would be perfectly proper if you had the same hand with x-x-x-x of hearts instead of the A-K-9-2.

The extra values are identified by a double. This requests partner to respond in his best suit with the knowledge that he is facing an opening bid.

2. One notrump. This shows the same values as an opening notrump bid. The point-count range is 16 to 18, the distribution is balanced, and the high cards are well divided over the four suits. Partner is thus apprized of the exact nature of your hand in one fell swoop.

3. Two spades. This maneuver affords yet another way of showing good values over an opening bid. You have the high cards needed for a double, but lack adequate trump support for any suit except spades. The jump overcall announces a better than minimum opening bid and a very good suit. It is not a forcing bid.

4. Pass. You have the values for an opening bid, but it is too dangerous to express them.

To double would be unwise, since you lack support for either major. It would be equally unwise to overcall with two clubs on such a mangy suit. From such bids come the 1,100 numbers.

5. Double. The only real choices are whether to pass, double or overcall in a suit. The pass is not recommended, even though there are only 11 high-card points. The hand will rise dramatically in value once partner responds in one of your suits. It is best to compete with such hands — not because you expect to make a game, but to fight for the part score.

It is better to double than overcall. Why try to guess partner's long suit when you can hit the nail on the head by doubling?

ABBY: you lost, so forget him

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a man I met on the telephone by mistake. I was calling someone else and got the wrong number. We started talking and seemed to have a lot in common. I am 33 and divorced, and he said he was 39 and divorced. I gave him my phone number and he called me every night for two months and we'd talk for hours. Then we made a date to meet.

I had my hair done that day and even bought a new outfit so I'd look real sharp. When we met I almost fainted because he was so handsome. Just like I imagined him to be. He seemed to like me a lot that first night and asked me to go to a motel with him. I refused. We made another date and again he asked me to go to a motel with him. This time I went. I am not what you would call an "easy number," but I just couldn't help myself.

After that he quit calling me, but I'd call him and we'd talk a while. He hasn't asked to see me again and I am going crazy. I think about him night and day. How can I get him to return my love, Abby? Don't tell me to forget him. I tried and can't.

TELEPHONE SWEETHEART

DEAR SWEETHEART: He's seen your full line and it's no sale. (Next time, hold something back.)

DEAR ABBY: My fiancé and I are planning a June wedding here in Honolulu as that is where we are both from. It will be a large church wedding, and I am sure we'll be getting lots of wedding gifts.

We would rather not have to pack these gifts to the mainland, so can you suggest a good way to tell people to please write down what they had in mind to give us, enclose the money, and let us make the purchase when we get to the mainland? Or don't you care for that idea?

STAR-BULLETIN READER

DEAR READER: Requesting money instead of a gift is awkward even though the reason makes sense. If I were you, I'd pack and ship the gifts to the mainland.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplaine

San Francisco — Sunny days. The world is spinning on its axis. Home problems rule your day," says my newspaper astrologer.

Everybody is in greatest danger at home. You can see this on any emergency hospital blotter.

Home is where you carve yourself instead of the roast.

Home is where you put your finger into the electric mixer — zip

The bathtub is where you slip. A lady recently hopped into the tub, sadly still wired to her home hair dryer. Fizz!

Home is where we fall downstairs. Take the wrong pill in the sleepy night.

It is safer to live in the street.

I said to everybody: "It would be a great help if all of you would lock the doors when you go out."

The scatter has no more security than a child's piggy bank. Burglars are working days and nights now. Lot of our friends have been robbed.

I said: "It's simple. Just before you leave the house, look at EACH door."

The children tried to start an argument. The girl said: "HE doesn't lock the doors. Are you going to lick him?"

The boy said: "She leaves the doors open. Are you going to spank her?"

I said: "Shut up. Lock the doors, lock the doors."

I'm a nervous cat around a scatter. When I was racing around emergency hospitals I was impressed by what a heap of living in a home could do to you.

People were punctured by canopeners. Impaled on nails. Scorching while ironing. Wired themselves into the shocking electrical system. Broke bones tripping over the garden hose.

They shot themselves pulling the shotgun out of the car. They were hit on the head by cans they were reaching for. They hammered their fingers instead of the carpet tack. Sliced themselves instead of the sandwich.

Watch out for the thunderstorms. The world's leading weather forecasters held a convention in Geneva and split a few of their statistics.

In sudden thunderstorms, traffic accidents go up 70%. Deaths rise 20%. Births go up 11%. Work accidents up 20%.

Even miners, far underground from the thunderclaps, have 12% more accidents.

Housewives break more dishes.

It is no time to take a bath in the slippery tub.

We put in a lot of safety things around here. But boys will climb trees. Children will fall down.

We use a lot of sticking plaster.

I said: "Stop screaming and let me look at it."

She said: "Don't put alcohol on it!"

I said: "I'm just going to wash it with soap and water. Why do you run when you know you'll fall down?"

We put in safety rules: "Don't climb on chairs to get the cookie jar. Use the kitchen ladder."

"If you ever try to take the TV apart with my screwdriver, you won't sit down for a week!"

I cut down a rope on a tree where I suspect they were trying to hang each other.

So everybody was delighted when I nicked myself while shaving.

Parks Board Delays Action On Railroad Museum

By LYNN ZERSCHLING
Star Staff Writer

The Parks and Recreation Board Thursday held off action on the request of the Havelock Businessmen's Association to put a railroad museum on a corner of Havelock Park.

Roger Thomas, president of the association, said an old railroad depot would house the museum which would include artifacts, pictures and tapes plus a small public meeting room.

The site requested is the former Havelock library location.

Ideal Location

Thomas contended that the park site would be an ideal location for a museum due to the park's proximity to the business district, school and the Havelock high rise for the elderly, now under construction.

He noted that the businessmen's group has the backing of the State Historical Society and written assurances of cooperation from Burlington Northern Railroad officials.

In addition, he said the association would relocate the depot — possibly one at Greenwood — and maintain the building and grounds with volunteer help.

No admission charge is anticipated, Thomas said.

"Educational"

"We're trying to set up an educational experience," he said, "not just a collection of old junk."

Parks and Recreation Director Don Smith said he had "mixed emotions" over the proposal, noting that long range plans call for the construction of tennis courts on the site.

Smith commented that people drawn to the museum would not be the same people drawn to the park and questioned whether the association would be able to maintain a working staff of volunteers to man the facility.

'Worth A Chance'

Councilwoman Helen Boosalis said the city would have to get the details tied down, adding "it's worth a chance."

The board delayed action on the proposal pending a field trip to the area to get a first hand look at the proposed museum site.

In other business the board agreed to appropriate funds in next year's budget to continue the experimental weekend recreation program at the public schools.

For six successive Sundays the department, in cooperation with the Lincoln Public Schools, has kept two gymnasiums and a swimming pool open at Southeast High School for public use. The Parks and Recreation Department financed the program with a $1,000 prize awarded in national competition.

OK Needed

For the program to be continued from November through March of next year, the approval of the City Council and Board of Education will be needed.

Leker termed the six-week program a success, noting that school officials estimated that 1,900 students used the swimming pool during that time and that over 3,800 students used the gyms.

Smith said he would like to see the program expanded to at least two high schools next year.

In other action the board approved the issuance of 20,000 free swimming pool tickets to the Lincoln Action Program (LAP) and the Indian Center.

Aid Uncertain

Leker reported that although federal funds were available to the city last year to help finance the program it is uncertain whether federal aid will be available this year.

He noted that only about half the 20,000 tickets issued last summer to LAP and the center were used.

Board Chairman Clancy Woolman reported that an open house will be held Sunday, March 18th from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Pioneers Clubhouse, which is being remodeled.

In other business Superintendent of Parks Dick Hilligus reported on park ranger activity for the month of February, noting that $491.24 in vandalism and seven arrests were reported.

County-City Committee To Proceed With Parking Lot

The County-City Building Committee Thursday agreed to proceed with the necessary steps to make application for the possible vacation of H Street between 9th and 10th to permit extension of parking facilities for the building.

According to information provided by City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger, if the street were vacated and the parking area across the street south were paved a total of 407 parking stalls could be provided south of the building as compared to a maximum of 396 if the street is not vacated.

The committee also discussed the possibility of future office expansion by an additional floor on the existing structure plus possible building extension over the parking areas adjacent to the building.

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf also suggested the committee consider the purchase of property across 9th street for future expansion.

Chairman Steve Cook reported that a revised directory for the building had been received from Best Manufacturing Co. who is formulating a directory and directional signs for county and city offices.

He said that he felt the committee should act on the revisions after all department heads have had an opportunity to go over the proposed revisions.

In other action the committee approved the bid of Hoppe Lumber Co. of $1,086 for cabinet work and shelves in County Court for the new Small Claims Court division.

The only other bidder was Earl Carter with a bid of $1,296

Housing Authority Adds 14 Houses in February

The Lincoln Housing Authority picked up an additional 14 units in its leased housing program during the month of February.

Assistant Director Virgil West told the authority Thursday that all the new units are two-bedroom houses which will "help solve our low-income requirements in this area."

To date 272 units in Arnold Heights have been sold. Executive Director Dick Burke reported

Burke said that of the remaining houses in the development, 19 are vacant, 13 are being rehabilitated, 684 are being rented, four are being used as show homes and eight are scheduled for remodeling.

Burke also noted that 111 homes have been accepted in the scattered site program with 48 additional homes now under construction.

Construction of the Havelock high-rise for the elderly is continuing ahead of schedule, he said, with an anticipated June move-in date.

Striking Union Chief Ditzler, Faces Charge

Jeff Ditzler, an official of the Union Local 1536 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers striking Square D Co. has been charged in Lancaster County Court with disturbing the peace and will be arraigned Friday.

Lancaster Deputy County Attorney R. Douglas McClain said that Ditzler was not arraigned Thursday when the charge was filed because his attorney was out of the city.

Ditzler, 24, is being charged in connection with a Tuesday night incident.

Charges will not be filed against the second man arrested in connection with the incident involving an alleged assault on a terminal manager for Roadway Express, according to McClain.

State Eyeing Omaha Offices Consolidation

Gov. J. J. Exon said Thursday consideration is being given to consolidating the state's offices in Omaha at one location in the downtown area.

However, no final decision has been made on a site or even whether such a consolidation should be made, Exon said.

Numerous state offices are located at various sites in Omaha and a consolidation move would be done to save money.

One of the buildings being considered is the old First National Bank building, vacated when the bank moved its headquarters. Exon said.

Farmers Union President Blasts Butz

Omaha (UPI) — National Farmers Union President Tony Dechant said Thursday the success of agribusiness is tied to the success of farming, and questioned if U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz is a friend of either industry.

Dechant said Butz had served on boards of directors of several agribusiness companies before taking his current government post, but the farm leader questioned if Butz "is a good friend of agribusiness."

Dechant noted that despite the current high level of farm income the Nixon administration is contending the farm programs are "outmoded, unfair and unproductive and therefore should be abolished." He called the administration's farm program cuts as a "deliberate effort to lower farm prices."

"The better the farmer does, the better agribusiness will do also," Dechant said. "Each dollar of farm income turns over five to seven times in the business community."

Dechant, in remarks to an Omaha luncheon, said the administration is "encouraging overproduction by bringing back into production millions of extra acres, while leaving the farmer to take the gamble."

That gamble, Dechant maintained, is "whether the government's rosy predictions of another banner export year will actually be born out."

Dechant, a Butz critic, noted the elimination or revision of key rural-oriented programs, including the Rural Electrification Administration, Rural Environmental Assistance Act and the Farm Home Administration emergency loan program. The elimination of the emergency loan program, Dechant said, "will leave bankruptcy as the only alternative for many farmers who have been hit by disaster."

Dr. Bunker Gets Fellowship

A University of Nebraska-Lincoln associate professor of chemistry was recently recognized by Germany as being an internationally known American scientist, and was invited to conduct at least 10 months of research in Bonn, Germany.

Dr. Robert J. Bunker, a faculty member in the University's Department of Chemistry for six years, was awarded the Senior Fellowship Award of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation.

The fellowship will pay Bunker's salary in Germany for at least 10 months beginning in the Fall of 1973, and will pay round-trip travel expenses for his wife, Marilyn, and son, Michael.

Proposed Life Term Said Unconstitutional For Drug Pushers

By United Press International
The attorney general's office held Thursday that a bill to impose mandatory life prison terms on those convicted of pushing drugs, without hope of parole, would be unconstitutional.

Betsy Berger, assistant attorney general, on a request from Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln, chairman of the Legislature's Judiciary Committee, on Lb261. The bill, patterned after the so-called "Rockefeller Law" of New York State, was sponsored by Sen. Loran Schmit of Bellwood.

The opinion held that the State Pardon Board, under the terms of the State Constitution, would still retain the power to commute a life sentence to a term of years for parole purposes.

regardless of the provisions of LB261. "Because the Board of Pardons is granted the power to grant pardons and communications by the constitution, legislation cannot impair the exercise of that power," Mrs. Berger said.

Luedtke said on that basis, the Legislature could go ahead and adopt the bill, but he said such an action "would be more than a mockery."

He said it would be telling Nebraskans that a life sentence could be imposed without hope of release when in fact nothing further from the truth was true because the Pardon Board could still act.

Trevino Ties Doral Record

MIAMI (UPI) — Lee Trevino, casting aside his "Merry Mexican" image, attacked Doral's "Blue Monster" course Thursday with a record-equaling 8-under-par 64 to go low strokes in front for the opening round of the $150,000 Doral-Eastern Open golf tournament.

Known for his carefree hijinks on and off the links, Trevino was all business later when he told reporters he now believes in hard work.

"I've been working hard—been jogging two miles a day and hitting 200 to 250 balls a day," said the muscular little professional. "I'm 15 pounds lighter."

The unaccustomed regimen has paid off. Only 12 days ago, Trevino collected the $52,000 first prize in the Jackie Gleason Invitational Golf Classic a few miles up the road. He finished 15th in the Florida Citrus Open at Orlando last Sunday, but immediately went to work on his weaknesses.

"I worked a lot on my wedges," he said. "I hit 'em terrible last week."

Trevino's 32-32 round, which included four birdies in a row on the back nine, was a record opening day score in this 11-year-old event. It tied Jack Nicklaus' tournament course record set in the third rounds of both the 1969 and 1972 tournaments.

ABC Signs Home TV Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association has signed an exclusive five-year contract with Home Box Office, Inc., for cable and pay television of ABA pre-season, season and playoff games.

The series will begin with Friday night's broadcast of the Kentucky Colonels-Virginia Squires game live from Norfolk, Va., to more than 5,000 Home Box Office subscribers in Wilkes-Barre, Allentown and Bethlehem, Pa.

Robert A. Carlson, ABA commissioner, making the announcement Thursday jointly with the pay TV firm, said the league sees the development of cable and pay TV as a significant new way of increasing the number of fans for ABA basketball.

The contract, which extends until July 1, 1977, provides for minimum payments by Home Box Office of $1.5 million against fees calculated on a per-subscriber basis.

Officials of both the ABA and Home Box Office predicted earned fees should far exceed the minimums for the later years of the contract.

Home Box Office, a subsidiary of Time, Inc., and Sterling Communications, Inc., will have first negotiation rights with individual teams in their home territories and co-extensive rights where cable or pay TV exist outside of home territories.

Nate Aids Kings Past Baltimore

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Nate Archibald, firing in 20 points, set a team season scoring record Thursday night as the Kansas City-Omaha Kings notched a 105-93 National Basketball Association victory over the Baltimore Bullets.

Archibald, the NBA's leading scorer with a 34 points per game average, upped his season mark to 2,492 points, breaking the record of 2,480 set in 1963 by Oscar Robertson of the then Cincinnati Royals.

The Kings held Baltimore scoreless for the first 5 1/2 minutes and led by 14 points, their largest margin of the game, at 55-41 with a minute left in the first half.

Baltimore scored 12 straight points early in the third period to creep to within 55-53.

Sam Lacey added 23 points and Nate Williams 19 in the balanced King attack, while Mike Ririordan led Baltimore with 27, and Archie Clark had 24.

Pius X, Fairbury Triumph

... Thunderbolts, Jeffs Meet Friday

Friday, March 9, 1973 The Lincoln Star 19

By MARK GORDON
Star Sports Writer

High school basketball coaches have barely enough time to bask in the glory of runaway victories before worrying about future contests.

That situation confronts both Lincoln's Pius X coach Don Kelley and Fairbury coach Charlie Moore, who watched their clubs record easy triumphs Thursday afternoon in Class B's opening round before 6,150 onlookers at Pershing Auditorium.

Pius X, which rolled past third-seeded Gretna, 70-42, and second-seeded Fairbury, which conquered Albion, 74-52, collide at noon Friday at Pershing.

"They've (Fairbury) got an outstanding athlete (6-5 senior Bob Siegel) but we feel we have some outstanding athletes also," Kelley said. "We haven't scouted them since we played them (a 59-47 loss at home on Dec. 10), "but we know we can give them a good game."

The Thunderbolts, who advanced to an 11-12 record, received double-figure-scoring performances from Jim Rust with 16 points, Artie Aksamit with 12, Steve Vacha with 11 and 10 points from John Magsamen.

Although Gretna trailed early at 8-0, the Dragons of coach Tom Leehy tied the contest at 19-all with 2:34 remaining before halftime. But then Pius X ripped to a 29-23 halftime edge before turning the contest into a second-half rout.

"They haven't been here for a few years (since 1929) and that took its toll. Maybe they had tournament jitters," Kelley said. "But for us, Rust played an outstanding game. I think he played a little better than what he has done previously."

Kelley also praised senior Mick Horak, whose four early third-quarter baskets propelled the 'Bolts, and senior Dan Elsener, who played well despite recovering from a sprained ankle.

Gretna, which ended at 19-5, was led by seniors Loren Lamprecht with 17 points, Ted Cox with 13 and 10 from Lynn Lamprecht.

Fairbury, meanwhile trailed 20-19 midway through the second quarter before surging to a 34-23 halftime edge and then toying with the Cardinals in the second half.

"Our defense played real well the first half, but how cool would you be (offensively) if that was your first state tournament," he asked. "I knew if we could get our offense going we would win."

The Jeffs, now 23-2, were paced by Siegel with 26 points, but junior Greg Gibson with 17 points and 10 apiece from Mark Hansen and Bob Parks also made sizeable contributions.

"Pius X has come a long ways since we played them last," said Moore, who watched Pius X's romp. "If we aren't really up for them we're going to have trouble."

"But, if we can get all our five players going at once, we're going to be hard to handle," he said.

The Cardinals of coach Gary Kruse now 13-8 were paced by senior Kevin Lingren with 14 points, Jeff Bolin with 12 points and 11 from Steve Johnson.

LET ME HAVE IT ... Beatrice's Philippi tries to keep ball from Central's Ashford.

Westside, Central Win; No. 1 Boys Town Falls

By RANDY Y RK
Prep Sports Writer

It takes more than one good player for a team to compete successfully in the state high school basketball tournament.

That was the painful lesson for Boys Town and Beatrice Thursday in the Class A tourney at Nebraska's Coliseum before matinee crowds of 5,300 and 7,000.

Top-ranked and top-seeded Boys Town — with scoring leader Freddie Anzures hand-cuffed to a season low 14 points — was upset, 51-38, by eighth-seeded Omaha Westside.

And Beatrice, despite an impressive 30-point shooting performance by 5-8 guard Bill Roach, fell to much more balanced Omaha Central, 65-55.

"You don't expect to go very far with one kid," veteran Boys Town coach George Pfeiffer said after his club suffered through a frigid 28 per cent shooting performance.

"It's no secret to anyone who's watched us play. We have to operate on all cylinders to make it," said Pfeiffer. "When Freddie's shut off, we're shut off."

Although Beatrice's Roach put on a dazzling display in the second afternoon game, the Orangemen suffered much the same fate as the Cowboys. Like Anzures is to Boys Town, Roach is to Beatrice — The teams only offensive threat.

"If he's not an all-stater I don't know who the heck is," Beatrice coach Neil Nannen said of Roach, who hit 13 third quarter points to keep the Orangemen in contention.

"He's done that for three years without having a big kid in the middle to go with him," Nannen said after Roach hit 13 of 23 shots and 4 of 6 free throws.

Nannen wasn't the only one impressed by his prize pupil. Winning Central coach Jim Martin said, "I don't know if I've seen a better guard all year."

"He hit a fantastic assortment of baskets," said Martin, whose Eagles shot 48 per cent from the field with four players hitting in double scoring figures.

"We knew Roach was good," added Martin, "but I couldn't believe his range. He can drive, hit the short jumper and hit the long set shot. We feel fortunate he was their only shooter."

Central answered with four good marksmen — John Johnson (18 points), Larry Butler (14), Ron Parker (12) and Dennis Forrest (10).

It completely baffled Boys Town at the outset, causing nine first quarter Cowboy turnovers. The Metropolitan Conference champs still hadn't adapted after halftime and went almost 7½ minutes without scoring as Westside transformed a 32-28 lead into a 44-28 cushion.

"They overplay so aggressively," Westside coach Tom Hall said of Boys Town, "that we just back-doored them to death by faking and cutting behind the defensive player."

"We have 12 different sequences to attack Boys Town's defense," confided Hall, who had them all written down on a small piece of cardboard that he kept in his pocket. "And we used eight of them."

Milford, Bertrand Use Ball Control

By STEVE GILLISPIE
Star Sports Writer

Both Milford and Bertrand used ball control late in the game Thursday afternoon to advance to the semifinals in the Class C State Basketball Tournament at Johnson Gym.

The unbeaten and top-ranked Eagles made 15 free throws in the fourth quarter to hold off Mitchell for a 57-48 win, while the Vikings saw a 51-44 lead cut before taking a 53-50 victory over Wahoo Neumann.

Milford, now 23-0, will face Bertrand, now 20-3, at 2 p.m. Friday at the NU Coliseum.

Mitchell finished the season 16-8 and Wahoo Neumann at 14-11. However, both losers still had a chance to win late in the game.

Total fouls—Milford 18, Mitchell 20

The Cavaliers missed the first shot on three one-and-one free throw situations and one layup, while Bertrand rallied from a 42-36 deficit and took a 48-42 lead.

The Tigers were down 48-44 with 1:58 left only to have Milford sink nine free throws in the remaining time to Mitchell's one basket and two free throws.

The western Nebraska team of coach Jim Hoffman rolled to a 33-27 advantage over the Eagles with 7:44 to go in the third quarter.

However, Milford held the Tigers to just two more baskets while scoring 15 points in the remainder of the third period in taking the lead for good.

Coach Denny Bergen had his undefeated team go into a delay game at the start of the fourth quarter and the Eagles made 15 of 18 free throws to win. Milford didn't make a field goal in the last period.

Wahoo Neumann rallied from a 31-23 deficit with 1:11 left in the second quarter to take a 42-36 advantage with 1:49 remaining in the third period.

Bertrand then rattled off 12 straight points to take the lead for good.

"We didn't give up our poise and it showed at the free throw line in the fourth quarter," Bergen said. "We did a better job of rebounding and shutting off Mitchell's inside game in the second half."

"We took a gamble by going to the delay game, but it paid off for us."

Bertrand coach Leroy Hoehner credited his team's win to "playing good defense and settling down on offense in the third quarter."

"We'll have to slow Milford's running game down and rebound with them, if we're to stay in the game with them," he noted. "Milford did a good job of shooting while on the run."

Adams, Hampton Make Semis

By MIKE JOHNSON
Star Sports Writer

Experience may be the key factor when defending Class D state champion Adams and unbeaten, top-ranked Hampton collide in Friday's 2 p.m. semifinal at Pershing Auditorium.

Hampton, paced by 21 points each from Dean Troester and Mark Olsen, crushed Silver Creek, 74-57, Thursday afternoon in the opening round of the state basketball tournament at the East Gym. Adams survived a Loomis' rally to prevail, 51-49.

But it is the tupe of experience that has the Hornets' coach Larry Coorts and the Hawks coach Jerry Eickhoff worried.

Adams has attended the state meet four times in the last three straight. None of the Hampton players, however, has participated in the state tourney.

Although Adams enjoys a marked advantage in the number of state tourney trips, the Hornets must rely on a largely inexperienced starting five.

The Hornets lost three starters from last year's top-ranked team, including the highest scorer in state tourney history.

Kim Veerhusen and their lineup includes three juniors.

The Hawks' lineup, however, is a veteran one with three seniors placed in starting roles. Olsen, one of two juniors completing the lineup, is Hampton's top scorer with an 18.5 points per game average.

Silver Creek rushed to a 17-13 first-quarter lead against Hampton, but the Hawks outscored the Tigers, 22-11, in the second quarter and 23-8 in the third quarter to take a commanding 58-36 lead.

Troester, who scored only one point in the first half, contributed 14 points in the third quarter to help Hampton take charge.

"This is the first time our kids have played in the state tournament," Eickhoff said. "That fact affected our play in the first quarter, but after we got used to the noise and the excitement, we played our regular brand of ball."

"Adams could have an advantage with the tournament experience," he added. "It certainly is a tremendous advantage to have been here before, but I think we are over the tournament jitters now."

Ross Peters added 12 points for Hampton, now 24-0. Larry Valasek and Ron Cuba topped Silver Creek, which closes at 16-8, with 14 and 13 respectively.

Adams scored only two baskets in the final period but managed to salvage the victory with a 9-12 free throw performance.

"We definitely have an edge considering our state tournament experience," Coorts said. "But we lost three starters and our individual players may lack the needed experience."

"Hampton is a veteran team with talented personnel," he added.

Dinsmore Files For Ed Board

Martin A. Dinsmore, 38-year-old engineer at Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in Lincoln, filed Thursday as a primary election candidate for the Board of Education.

Dinsmore, automotive account sales engineer at the Lincoln plant, is the husband of a school board candidate in the race two years ago.

"Since my wife, Karen, was a candidate for this position two years ago, some explanation of my candidacy might be in order," he said in a prepared statement.

"Our mutual interest in and discussion of educational questions in Lincoln during the past several years has convinced me that I can make a significant contribution" as a school board member, he said.

He said his frequent attendance at board meetings has convinced him that "much more guidance from the board in terms of community educational goals and more accountability by the administration for meeting these goals is required."

"I am very much concerned that changes are being made for the sake of change without critical evaluation of its effect on children or whether it leads effectively toward desired educational goals.

"While my wife shares many of these concerns, I have chosen to run at this time since a new child and increased professional responsibilities have made it impractical for her repeated candidacy."

They have four children, from pre-school through junior high age.

Dinsmore himself is a graduate of Purdue University and the University of Akron.

Sue Bailey Is Candidate For Council

Former Lincoln League of Women Voters officer Mrs. Sue Bailey announced her candidacy for the Lincoln City Council race Thursday.

Mrs. Bailey, of 1800 So. 22nd, simultaneously announced her resignation as third vice-president of the league in order to run for the council race.

"It seems to me that running for public office is a logical step to take after my years of observing government in action," she said.

Mrs. Bailey, 49, is a member of the Region II Crime Commission, the Lancaster County Goals and Policy Committee, the Planning Division of Lincoln Community Services and the Special Education Advisory Committee of the Lincoln Public Schools.

In addition, she is president of the board of the Unitarian Church, and a member of the corrections committee of the League of Women Voters and the board of directors of the Youth Service Program.

She is former president of the Faculty Womens Club at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Allen Enters Contest For City Council

A University of Nebraska-Lincoln administrator, Harry S. Allen, filed as a candidate for the Lincoln City Council Thursday.

Allen, of 3901 So. 39th, is director of Institutional Research and Planning at the university.

Allen, 50, said he favors more strict interpretation of existing zoning laws, but said the city should review its master growth plan.

A member of the Mayor's Committee on Housing and the Human Rights Commission, he said that as a councilman he would promote the neighborhood improvement program.

Such a program would revitalize the central city, "rather than favoring a bulldozer approach to urban renewal," Allen said.

is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
